

Kadonga Avenue	Kensington Park, Rosslyn Park
-----------------------	--------------------------------------

Origin of present name

Unknown.

Probably Aboriginal.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Warburton, Elizabeth, The Paddocks Beneath, p. 215 (1924 map shows Kadonga Avenue not yet extended from Brigalow to Hyland Terrace).

Kamali Avenue	Wattle Park
----------------------	--------------------

Origin of present name

The history of the naming of this street is quite unusual. The developers of the district, south east of Kensington and Penfolds Road chose five streets of grape varieties (frontignac, grenache, gordo, muscat and reisling) and were at a loss to find an appropriate name for another. They asked the secretary of the syndicate for a suggestion and she chose Kamali.

It may never be known why she selected that name but the developers recorded it.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Ian C. Alexander in April 1986. He was associated with Powell when subdivision occurred, confirmed with Powell and advised Alan Cross on 23 Aug 1986

Karrayerta Drive	Glenside
-------------------------	-----------------

Origin of present name

The Kaurna term Karrayerta was recorded for the Burnside area by C.H. Harris, a Department of Lands surveyor in the early 20th century who had an interest in place names. He defined this as ‘gum trees on the margin of [a] stream’. A more contemporary translation might be ‘redgum country’.

This was one of several new roads that were established as a result of the development of the Glenside Hospital Campus with the names confirmed by Council in Feb 2014. The roads that were established at that time were Cramond Drive, Eucalyptus Lane, Harriet Lucy Drive, Karrayerta Drive, and Mulberry Road. The name Alexander Deane Street was also assigned at that time even though the road had not yet been built.

The hospital was originally established on the 134 acre Section 264 here in 1870 when it was known as the Parkside Lunatic Asylum. It carried that name until 1913 when it was renamed the Parkside Mental Hospital and then again renamed Glenside Hospital in 1967. With the advances of treatment options, new drugs and home care, further development with the less extensive accommodation of the Glenside Health Services facilities was completed in 2014.

The Adelaide Studios of South Australia Film Corporation moved into the main precinct.

(See also, Alexander Deane Street.)

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

SA Health.

1870-1970 Commemorating the Centenary of Glenside Hospital.

Burnside Street Names and their Origins

K

Karri Street

Stonyfell

Origin of present name

Named after an Australian tree.

Karri is a West Australian tree (eucalyptus diversicolor). Other streets in the vicinity with names associated with Australian trees are Acacia, Eucalypt, Grevillea, Kurrajong and Waratah.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Katoomba Avenue

Beaumont

Earlier name(s) if different from present name

Karkulta Terrace at the southern end.

Origin of earlier name

Origin of present name

Unknown.

As it is somewhat near Waterfall Gully it may possibly named after the Aboriginal word Kattatoonbah meaning waterfall. The town Katoomba in NSW is said to have that derivation.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Reed, A. W., Aboriginal words and place names, p. 92.

Colman, D. (ed), The First Hundred Years, p. 59.

Kennaway Street

Tusmore

Origin of present name

Named after Rt. Hon. Sir John H. Kennaway Bart, MP.

In 1911 Sir John Kennaway was a member of the Colonial Board of Advice of the South Australian Company who owned Section 291, which was the land bounded by Portrush Road and Greenhill Road, and approximately by Barr Smith Street and Tusmore Avenue.

Other streets in the vicinity with names associated with the names of the members of that Board when this land was subdivided in 1911 are Bakewell Street, Barr Smith Street, Fisher Street and Stirling Street.

(See also the streets mentioned above.)

Year in which street acquired present name

1911

Sources of information

Mortlock Library (SA), South Australian Company Annual Report 1911.

Kensington Road Erindale, Kensington Gardens, Kensington Park, Leabrook, Rose Park, Rosslyn Park, Toorak Gardens, Wattle Park

Earlier name(s) if different from present name

Britannia Road.
Waterhouse Road, probably in the Kensington area.
Packhams Road, leading to Stonyfell.

Origin of earlier name

When considering the full length of what is now Kensington Road from the city to the hills no doubt the western end was originally Britannia Road, near the hotel of the same name.

The First Hundred Years records Britannia Road, Waterhouse Road and Packhams Road as earlier names of parts of the road but does not say which parts. However the following historic points may be relevant to those names:

- Britannia Road. No doubt named after the Britannia Hotel or vice versa. This name probably refers to the portion passing Rose Park and Toorak Gardens.
- Packhams Road. David Packham worked the quarry in Gandy’s Gully (which is near the end of Kensington Road) and grazed cattle in the area until 1867 when he established a chaff cutting business in Kensington. Later he was Mayor of Norwood/Kensington and MHA for East Torrens. This name probably refers to the portion passing Kensington Park, Kensington Gardens, Leabrook and Erindale.
- Waterhouse Road. Between 1851 and 1857 the Wattle Grove house and estate, which is near the south east corner of the junction between Kensington Road and Hallet Road was owned by George Waterhouse MLC and later Premier 1861-1863. This name probably refers to the portion passing Wattle Park and Rosslyn Park.

Origin of present name

Named after the suburbs through which it passes, Kensington, Kensington Park and Kensington Gardens.

The suburb Kensington was named in 1839 after the suburb of that name in London.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Cockburn, Nomenclature of South Australia, p. 115.
Colman, D. (ed), The First Hundred Years, p. 14.
Warburton, Elizabeth, The Paddocks Beneath, pp. 52, 162, 226.

Keyes Street Linden Park

Origin of present name

Named after Admiral R. J. B. Keyes (1872-1945).

Keyes was an Admiral during World War I, later becoming First Baron of the name. He was associated with the raid on Zeebrugge in 1918, and was commemorated by the South Australian Company which owned the land at the time of the subdivision.

Other streets in the vicinity with names associated with Admirals of World War I (1914-1918) are Beatty Street, Craddock Street, Hood Street, Jellicoe Street and Sturdee Street.

Year in which street acquired present name c. 1921

Sources of information

Warburton, Elizabeth, The Paddocks Beneath, p. 141.

Burnside Street Names and their Origins

K

Kincardine Avenue St Georges

Origin of present name

Unknown.

Possibly named after the county in Scotland. George Swan Fowler (1839-96) who owned the adjacent estate Wootton Lea (now Seymour College) came from Fifeshire in Scotland.

(See also Fowlers Road, Glen Osmond.)

Year in which street acquired present name 1920

Sources of information

Kings Avenue Burnside

Origin of present name

The road was established in the early 1950s and named to commemorate the accession to the throne of Queen Elizabeth II in 1952.

Other streets in the vicinity with names associated with the occasion are Royal Avenue, Queens Avenue, and Windsor Avenue.

Year in which street acquired present name c.1952

Sources of information

Kingsley Avenue Glenunga

Origin of present name

Unknown.

Possibly named after one of three villages of this name in Great Britain or after a property owner in this area.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

King Lane Beulah Park

Earlier name(s) if different from present name

None

Origin of earlier name

Origin of present name

Named after Stephen King (1841-1915).

Stephen King was a member of the John McDouall Stuart expedition which was the first expedition to cross Australia from south to north and successfully return in 1861-1862. He was a resident of Beulah Park and from 1880 he lived at Calta Wurlie at 264 Portrush Road with his father living next door at Number 262.

(See also Stuart Street, Burnside.)

Year in which street acquired present name 2000

Sources of information

Lawrenson, Elizabeth, Pioneers Association Pamphlet, No 44
Warburton, Elizabeth, The Paddocks Beneath, p. 252.

Burnside Street Names and their Origins

K

King Walk	Toorak Gardens
------------------	-----------------------

Earlier name(s) if different from present name

None.

Origin of earlier name

When the suburb was laid out this was a pathway. The Burnside Council later decided that the paths should have names so that they could be more easily identified.

Origin of present name

Named after Canon Frank King.

Canon King was Rector of St Theodore's Anglican Church for many years, including when the church was built in 1915.

The walkway is directly opposite one entrance to St Theodore's.

Year in which street acquired present name 1995

Sources of information

Name suggested by John Clark in letter from BHS Committee to Burnside Council 26 Sept 1995.

Private information from Rector of St Theodore's.

Kintore Avenue	Hazelwood Park
-----------------------	-----------------------

Origin of present name

Probably named after the Earl of Kintore, Governor of South Australia from 1889 to 1895.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Cockburn, Rodney, What's in a Name, p. 121.

Kirkdale Avenue	Hazelwood Park
------------------------	-----------------------

Origin of present name

Unknown.

One of a group of streets with Scottish names bestowed when the area was subdivided.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Burnside Street Names and their Origins

K

Kitchener Avenue Dulwich

Earlier name(s) if different from present name

Hanover Avenue.

Origin of earlier name

Probably named after the British/German Royal Family, or the town in Germany from which many early German settlers migrated.

Origin of present name

Named after Lord Kitchener, hero of World War I 1914-1919. The area was probably being subdivided in the early 1920s.

Year in which street acquired present name c. 1915

Sources of information

Lane, Peter, information in possession of Burnside Library Local History Collection.

Knightsbridge Road Leabrook, Hazelwood Park, Tusmore

Origin of present name

Presumably named after the fashionable suburb of Knightsbridge in central London. The suburb was laid out by 'Mr Architect Price' of Beaumont in 1848.

Year in which street acquired present name 1848

Sources of information

Cockburn, Rodney, What's in a Name, p. 121.

Warburton, Elizabeth, The Paddocks Beneath, p. 74.

Knoll Grove Skye

Origin of present name

Unknown.

One of several streets in Skye with names that are descriptive of the landscape.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Knox Terrace Skye

Origin of present name

Named after Mary Warren Knox.

Mary Knox was the mother of Lesley Chapman who surveyed the area in about 1938.

(See also McBeath Drive, Skye.)

Year in which street acquired present name c. 1938

Sources of information

Private information from Lesley Chapman via his wife Jenice Chapman.

Knox Street	Frewville
--------------------	------------------

Earlier name(s) if different from present name

Queen Street.

Origin of earlier name

Queen Street stretches west from Portrush Road to Glenunga High School where it terminates. The original plan was presumably for it to continue along the current Knox Street, but renaming this small portion of it would have been a sensible way of handling the split units of the road.

Origin of present name

Named after Nathaniel A. Knox (1797-1880).

Knox came from County Antrim in Northern Ireland and owned the two Sections 272 and 273 which were bounded by Conyngham Street, Portrush Road (which he is reputed to have named, after the town in Northern Ireland), Bevington Road and Greenhill Road. He called the area Knoxville, but it has since been renamed Glenside and (the northern part of) Glenunga.

Soon after his death the 268 acres were subdivided into 430 allotments.

Nathaniel Knox's son, also Nathaniel was later the owner of Clifton in Stonyfell.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Cockburn, Rodney, What's in a Name, 121.

Warburton, Elizabeth, The Paddocks Beneath, p. 145.

Knoxville Lane	Glenside
-----------------------	-----------------

Origin of present name

Named after the former suburb name of this vicinity.

Nathaniel A. Knox (1797-1880) came from County Antrim in Northern Ireland and owned the two Sections 272 and 273 which were bounded by Conyngham Street, Portrush Road (which he is reputed to have named after the town in Northern Ireland), Bevington Road and Greenhill Road. He called the area Knoxville, but it has since been renamed Glenside and (the northern part of) Glenunga.

Soon after his death the 268 acres were subdivided into 430 allotments.

Nathaniel Knox's son, also Nathaniel was later the owner of Clifton in Stonyfell.

The adjacent former Knoxville Congregational Church was opened in 1887 and was nicknamed the Pepperbox by locals on account of its unique architectural style. It was a totally independent church sponsored by the finance of the congregation for the minister and the assets. In about 2010 it was converted into a residence.

The nearby Cranwell Street (off Allinga Avenue) was named after an early Superintendent of the Sunday School.

Year in which street acquired present name c. 2010

Sources of information

Cockburn, Rodney, What's in a Name, 121.

Warburton, Elizabeth, The Paddocks Beneath, p. 145.

Burnside Street Names and their Origins

K

Kooyong Court

Leabrook

Origin of present name

Unknown.

Possibly from the Aboriginal for 'blackfellows camp'.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Cockburn, Rodney, What's in a Name, p. 123.

Korra Avenue

Kensington Gardens

Origin of present name

Unknown.

Possibly based on the Aboriginal word kora for 'native companion' bird. The adjacent street wilga is also an Aboriginal word for the name of a tree.

See also Wilga Street, Kensington Gardens.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Reed, A. W., Aboriginal words and place names, p. 98.

Kurrajong Avenue

Stonyfell

Origin of present name

Named after an Australian tree.

The street is one of several in the locality bearing names of Australian species of trees.

Others include Acacia, Eucalypt, Grevillea, Kurrajong and Waratah.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Kurrajong Street

Skye

Origin of present name

Named after an Australian tree.

The nearby suburb of Stonyfell also has a number of streets that are named after trees including the name Kurrajong.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Burnside Street Names and their Origins

K

Kurralta Drive

Burnside

Origin of present name

Named after the house Kurralta which was built for Dr William Wyatt (1805-1886).

The name is Aboriginal for 'set on the hill' and the house which is still located at 23 Kurralta Drive was designed in a Georgian style by the famous colonial architect George Kingston. After Dr Wyatt's death his wife Julia continued living in the house until she died in 1891 aged ninety one. After a period under the control of Wyatt Beneficial Institution it was purchased by George Freeman and then by John Dunstan in 1910. In 1919 Percy Ifould purchased the house

The property originally extended down to First Creek in Waterfall Gully where flowers, vegetables and oranges were grown.

See also Wyatt Road, Burnside.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Warburton, Elizabeth, The Paddocks Beneath, p. 32.

Kyle Street

Glenside

Origin of present name

Unknown.

Possibly named after the district of Kyle, south of Glasgow in Scotland.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Burnside Street Names and their Origins

K