

Burnside Street Names and their Origins

P

Palomino Road	Auldana
----------------------	----------------

Origin of present name

Unknown.

Possibly some connection with the horse of this type.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Pam Street	Beaumont
-------------------	-----------------

Origin of present name

Unknown.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Park Avenue	Rosslyn Park
--------------------	---------------------

Origin of present name

Probably because either:

- a park with grass, trees, and tennis courts fronts onto the road, or
- the road bisects Rosslyn Park.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Park Crescent	Linden Park
----------------------	--------------------

Origin of present name

Probably because it is a crescent shaped road skirting a small park.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Park Road	Kensington Park
------------------	------------------------

Earlier name(s) if different from present name

Kensington Park Road.

Origin of earlier name

Origin of present name

Unknown.

Probably because either:

- it describes the open park type of country when the area which was previously known as Shipster's Paddock was first subdivided in 1865, or
- the road bisects Kensington Park.

Year in which street acquired present name

1865

Sources of information

Warburton, Elizabeth, The Paddocks Beneath, p. 245.

Burnside Street Names and their Origins

P

Park Street

Magill

Origin of present name

Unknown.

Probably because it was the road leading into the north side of the Home Park estate of Patrick Auld as can be seen on the sales brochure of 1924.

Year in which street acquired present name About 1920

Sources of information

Warburton, Elizabeth, The Paddocks Beneath, pp. 214, 215 (map).

Parkstone Avenue

Dulwich

Origin of present name

Unknown.

Possibly named after either:

- a family name, or
- the English seaside resort of Parkstone near the Isle of Wight.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Patrick Auld Drive

Auldana

Origin of present name

Named after Patrick Auld (1811-1886).

In the early 1840s Patrick Auld purchased Section 343 and other land on the rising ground above Magill in the area to the east of Penfold Road and north of what is now The Parade (but which at that time was only a track later called Auldana Road). The property totalled some 400 acres on which he built a twelve-roomed stone house which he called Home Park.

However two years of financial troubles were made even worse by the gold rush to Victoria in 1854. He was forced to subdivide the Home Park property and the vineyards that he had planted on the lower lying land. He then built a smaller house Bushy Park higher up the hill, and planted more vines there.

Patrick Auld produced wines under the name Emu Wines but in later years the winery and suburb became known as Auldana.

(See also Bushy Park Drive, Auldana.)

Year in which street acquired present name 1980

Sources of information

Warburton, Elizabeth, The Paddocks Beneath, p. 218, 219. A

Burnside Street Names and their Origins

P

Paynter Street	Glen Osmond
-----------------------	--------------------

Earlier name(s) if different from present name

Wood Street.

Origin of earlier name

Possibly named after the Wood family of Linden Park.
(See also Wood Grove, Hazelwood Park.)

Origin of present name

Named after Samuel Arundell Paynter (1828-1902) mine agent of Moonta Mines who lived in Burnside.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Pellew Avenue	Auldana
----------------------	----------------

Origin of present name

Named after Thomas Pellew (1815-1884) or his family.

Thomas Pellew, Cornishman, was an early settler of Magill, living in a house next to the Wesleyan Chapel and working as a carrier and omnibus driver. He was succeeded by his son Joseph Henry Pellew and grandsons 'Nip' Pellew, a well-known South Australian cricketer, and Lancelot Vivien Pellew, CMG, magistrate.

Year in which street acquired present name

1980

Sources of information

Warburton, Elizabeth, The Paddocks Beneath, p. 200.

Pembroke Street	Kensington Park
------------------------	------------------------

Origin of present name

Unknown.

Probably named after the town of Pembroke in Wales. Other nearby streets which are also named after British towns are Bedford, Ellesmere, Guildford, Uxbridge and Walsall.

It should be noted that Pembroke Street was so named long before the Girton School changed its name to Pembroke, which name comes from Pembroke College of Oxford University.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Burnside Street Names and their Origins

P

Pemberton Lane

Beulah Park

Origin of present name

Named after Edward Abson Pemberton, builder.

Edward Pemberton emigrated from Lancashire and built many fine houses and cottages in Beulah Park. He used red bricks from the nearby Reedy's brickyard on Howard Street (now re-established as Mellor Park) and many of the cottages dating from 1894 to 1896 were still standing a hundred years later. They can mainly be found in the blocks bounded by Portrush Road, Beulah Road, Matilda and Union Streets.

He worked for nearly thirty years as a contract builder in the area and eventually bought four acres in the vicinity of the corner of Beulah and Vine Streets which he subdivided to build further houses in his own style.

Edward's son Harold was a Burnside Councillor from 1924-30.

(See also Ruthven Lane and Reedy Lane, Beulah Park.)

Year in which street acquired present name 2000

Sources of information

Warburton, Elizabeth, The Paddocks Beneath, p. 256.

Penarth Avenue

Beaumont

Earlier name(s) if different from present name

Robe Terrace.

Origin of earlier name

Probably named after Frederick Robe who was Governor of South Australia in the 1840s.

Origin of present name

Information received from a resident of the street recalls a conversation in the 1950s with a person leasing Norley Bank who changed the name to Penarth House from which it is presumed the road received its name (or vice versa).

The diagram on page 150 of The Paddocks Beneath shows Penarth Avenue extending the full distance between Cooper Place and Dashwood Road, excepting Beaumont Common in the middle. The road has never been built to this planning design. Norley Bank was a house just north of Beaumont Common on land that stretched between Vansittart Place and Penarth Avenue.

(As the map is based on the properties of many years earlier it seems unlikely that a conversation on the matter could have been held as recently as the 1950s. Richard House)

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Cockburn, Rodney, What's in a Name, p. 188.

Private information from Gladys Byfield, once resident of 3 Vansittart Place, Beaumont.

Warburton, Elizabeth, The Paddocks Beneath, p. 150.

Burnside Street Names and their Origins

P

Penfold Road

Magill

Origin of present name

Named after Christopher Rawson Penfold (1811-1870) and his wife Mary. The Penfolds acquired 500 acres in the 1840s. The estate stretched south from Magill mainly to the east of Penfold Road through the area known as The Grange to Kensington Road and included part of what is now Rosslyn Park.

The success of the family in grape growing eventually led to the establishment of the Penfold Winery and the famous Penfold's Grange Hermitage which came from the Grange Vineyards. The last vintage was crushed at the Magill cellars in 1972 and subdivision in the early 1980s by Tooth & Co, the then owners, resulted in the survival of only the core of the vineyard including the winery and the Penfolds cottage.

(For further information about the Penfolds, see also Gordon Terrace, Mary Penfold Drive and Hyland Terrace, Rosslyn Park.)

Year in which street acquired present name 1924

Sources of information

Warburton, Elizabeth, The Paddocks Beneath, pp. 221-224.

Penfold Road

Rosslyn Park

Earlier name(s) if different from present name

Magill Terrace.

Origin of earlier name

The map on page 215 of The Paddocks Beneath by Elizabeth Warburton shows this road as Magill Terrace in 1924.

Origin of present name

See Penfold Road, Magill.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Warburton, Elizabeth, The Paddocks Beneath, p. 215.

Penfold Road

Stonyfell

Earlier name(s) if different from present name

Emu Terrace.

Origin of earlier name

Origin of present name

See Penfold Road, Magill.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Burnside Street Names and their Origins

P

Penfold Road

Wattle Park

Earlier name(s) if different from present name

Magill Terrace.

Origin of earlier name

Origin of present name

See Penfold Road, Magill.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Penong Avenue

Burnside

Origin of present name

Unknown.

Penong is also the name of a small place just west of Ceduna. Possibly the owner of this land in Burnside also had a connection with the place Penong and commemorated the name when subdividing. The name is based on the Aboriginal word meaning 'rock hole'.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Cockburn, Rodney, What's in a Name, p. 172.

Pepper Street

Magill

Origin of present name

Named after the Pepper brothers.

Henry Pepper was a timber carter and bus driver. John Pepper was a timber carter. Both grew up and lived in Magill.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Warburton, Elizabeth, The Paddocks Beneath, p. 203.

Pepperbox Court

Glenside

Origin of present name

Named after the Knoxville Jubilee Bible Church.

The church at the northern end of Allinga Avenue east of this sub-development had this local nickname because of its appearance.

Year in which street acquired present name

1998

Sources of information

Burnside Historical Society Newsletter, vol. 10 no. 3 Sept. 1990, vol. 18 no. 3. pp.12-14.

Warburton, Elizabeth, The Paddocks Beneath, p. 149.

Burnside Street Names and their Origins

P

Perry Lane

Leabrook

Origin of present name

Named after Charles Augustus Perry (1813-1884).

Charles Perry and his wife and daughter Mary Ann arrived in South Australia 1839. He was a builder and contractor and built the first bridge over the Port River and a number of other bridges on the eastern plains. Perry leased this north western corner of Section 299 from the South Australian Company and built a house known as The Wattles. One of his daughters married George the son of Henry de Mole of The Waldrons (see Moorcroft Court, Erindale).

Year in which street acquired present name 1990

Sources of information

Corporation of the City of Burnside, Minutes, Feb 1990.

Warburton, Elizabeth, The Paddocks Beneath, p. 63.

Perkins Court

Magill

Origin of present name

Unknown.

Possibly named after either:

- Charles Perkins, Burnside Councillor for Knightsbridge 1882-1885, or
- Charles Perkins, Aboriginal leader who lived in Kensington Park during his childhood.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Peroomba Avenue

Kensington Gardens

Origin of present name

Unknown.

Probably some connection with the house Peroomba in Beulah Park.

(See also Douglas Avenue, Beulah Park.)

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Warburton, Elizabeth, The Paddocks Beneath, p. 254.

Philip Avenue

Leabrook

Earlier name(s) if different from present name

Second Street.

Origin of earlier name

The second street west of Burnside (Glynburn) Road in the original subdivision.

Origin of present name

Named after Philip Newland.

Philip Newland was the second son of Simpson Newland of Undelcarra.

(For further details of Simpson Newland see Newland Road.)

Year in which street acquired present name c. 1970

Sources of information

Burnside Library, Local History Collection.

Warburton, Elizabeth, The Paddocks Beneath, p. 71.

Burnside Street Names and their Origins

P

Pine Close

Glenside

Origin of present name

Named after the pine trees in the vicinity.

Other streets in the Amber Woods development with names associated with European trees are Cedar Crescent, Olive Close and Plane Tree Avenue. Prior to subdivision the area was a wooded recreation area of the Glenside Hospital and the names were selected because many of the original trees were retained.

Year in which street acquired present name 1994

Sources of information

Private information from Andrew Ward (Burnside Library).

Corporation of the City of Burnside, Planning and Building Committee, Minutes, 8 Nov. 1994.

Plane Tree Avenue

Glenside

Origin of present name

Named after the plane trees in the vicinity.

Other streets in the Amber Woods development with names associated with European trees are Cedar Crescent, Olive Close and Pine Close. Prior to subdivision the area was a wooded recreation area of the Glenside Hospital and the names were selected because many of the original trees were retained.

Year in which street acquired present name 1994

Sources of information

Corporation of the City of Burnside, Planning and Building Committee, Minutes, 8 Nov. 1994.

Private information from Andrew Ward (Burnside Library).

Playford Street

Glen Osmond

Origin of present name

Named after Thomas Playford, Premier of South Australia for 26 years (1940-1966).

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Private information from Robert Chapman.

Portrush Road	Beulah Park, Glen Osmond, Glenside, Glenunga, Linden Park, St Georges, Tusmore
----------------------	---

Earlier name(s) if different from present name

Kensington Terrace.

Origin of earlier name

Probably given this name because it passed the suburb of Kensington as well as Beulah Park. Kensington is a fashionable suburb of London.

Origin of present name

Named after the town of Portrush on the north east coast of Ireland near the Giant's Causeway.

It is believed the road was named by Nathaniel Knox (1797-1880) after his home in Ireland. The suburb of Knoxville (now Glenside) also took his name.

The name Portrush Road was originally given to a much shorter length of the road, but was extended to absorb names, such as Wellington Road near the junction with Payneham Road, which had been used on different sections of the same road.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Advertiser, 13 Sept. 1982.

Warburton, Elizabeth, The Paddocks Beneath, p. 145.

Prescott Terrace	Rose Park, Toorak Gardens
-------------------------	----------------------------------

Origin of present name

Named after William Prescott (1800-1876).

William Prescott arrived in South Australia in 1838 with his wife and children and leased Sections 262 and 275, (now Rose Park and Dulwich) from the South Australian Company. He cleared the land and established a farm with the help of his family. One of his daughters Eliza Christiana (1833-1923) lived her whole life on the farm and saw it gradually being subdivided.

The final remnant of Prescott's Farm was two acres that had been bought by Eliza in 1911 on the east side of Prescott Terrace in between Watson and Alexandra Avenues.

Family members built homes on this land and the last remnants of the farm survived until 1938. There is now a Burnside Historical Society plaque on the roadside commemorating the location of the farm.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Private information from Richard House.

Warburton, Elizabeth, The Paddocks Beneath, pp. 278, 284.

Burnside Street Names and their Origins

P

Pridmore Road

Glen Osmond

Origin of present name

Named after Horace Vernon Pridmore (1863-1907).

Horace Pridmore was the second son of an old established family from Coventry in England, who came to South Australia in 1883 followed eight years later by his brother Cyril Eustace (1874-1925). They bought the Woodley house and estate in Glen Osmond, and later another property The Wattles at McLaren Vale. Horace made improvements to the Woodley winery and vineyards of about 30 acres which were already established in this area but somewhat run down, and was an enthusiast of the wine industry, being President of the South Australia Winegrowers Association three times.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Warburton, Elizabeth, The Paddocks Beneath, pp. 116-118.

Primrose Terrace

Rosslyn Park

Origin of present name

Unknown.

Early residents of Rosslyn Park refer to evening primroses growing in the area which may explain the name.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Burnside Historical Society Meeting tape recording, no. 64, 12 May 1986.

Pring Lane

Dulwich

Earlier name(s) if different from present name

None.

Origin of earlier name

When the suburb was laid out this was an unnamed night cart lane. The Burnside Council later decided that the lanes should have names so that they could be more easily identified.

Origin of present name

Named after Captain Daniel Pring, RN.

Daniel Pring was an absentee owner who was originally granted Section 263, now Dulwich, but leased it to a cattle dealer. On his death in 1846 it passed to his wife who sold it in 1850.

Year in which street acquired present name

1995

Sources of information

Corporation of the City of Burnside, Report from Manager Engineering Services to Works Committee, 21 Aug. 1995.

Warburton, Elizabeth, The Paddocks Beneath, p. 274.

Burnside Street Names and their Origins

P

Purnana Avenue

St Georges

Origin of present name

Unknown.

Possibly Aboriginal.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Burnside Street Names and their Origins

P